'Our opinions matter in school'

At Telford Infant School we are involved in democratic processes, i.e. electing class school councillors, voting for which class books to read.

We are a Thrive school and our adults listen and value our opinions.

Rule of Law

'We keep to the rules'

At Telford Infant School we all know our school rules. We are 'Safe, Kind and Proud'
All children and adults are aware of our behaviour policy, understand and follow it.
We have regular opportunities throughout the day to reflect on choices that we make.

Liberty

'We are free to make safe choices'

At Telford Infant School through Building Learning Powers we understand how to use our responsibility in school.

We know who's who around our school and the jobs they do!

We know that 'Loving Learning' is what our school is all about.

We have time to reflect about making safe choices following behaviour incidents.

We support lots of charities by holding fundraising events in school, having non-uniform days and also by dressing up! Our grown-ups at school and home work closely together

Tolerance

'We accept each other's differences'

Through our PSHE and RSE learning we understand that it's ok to be different

We enjoy learning about and respect different cultures and their beliefs.

We have a school equalities policy. We celebrate cultural themes in our classrooms and in assemblies We enjoy visiting our local church St Mary Magdalene's.

We celebrate religious festivals such as Diwali, Easter, Christmas and Eid.

We mark British historical events such as Remembrance Day.

Respect

'We are kind to each other and are proud of our school'

PSHE and RSE is taught across all year groups in our school.

As a Thrive school grown-ups model positive relationships and we do too!

We enjoy learning about lots of different religions in our school.

Our school councillors share our lovely ideas with the rest of the school.

We know we have the right to feel safe all the time.
